Celebrating Nature at Yankalilla Library in the October School Holidays

We celebrated the Nature Festival at the Yankalilla Library with a variety of school holiday activities for families.

To kick off the first week of the holidays, families were invited to explore nature by learning and playing with sand, leaves, pebbles and sticks. They also drew, wrote and created art, including salt dough nature mobiles, leaf rubbings, tic-tac-toe and hopscotch. The hall was filled with activity, accommodating 22 children busily enjoying exploring using their senses.

There were little penguins (well, sphero robots pretending to be penguins!) who reacted to the light and moved to safe places.

In the second week, fairies could be found in the gardens that families made using bark, soil, shells, stones, moss, leaves, small nature parts and sticks.

Families also dropped in and created gardens and beach scenes with Lego. Their finished designs can be seen in the library's display cabinet.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Meetings and Community Engagement

This month has seen valuable opportunities to connect with both local and regional groups. On the 2nd of October, I attended the Fleurieu Coast Community Network meeting, where we discussed various initiatives and ways to enhance our local services. The following day, I participated in the SAROC (South Australian Regional Organisation of Councils) meeting, which allowed for further collaboration with councils across the region.

Citizenship Ceremony

It was my honour to welcome five new citizens to our wonderful community during a recent Citizenship Ceremony. Australian citizenship signifies a full and formal commitment to our country and embodies a sense of belonging and unity, while also celebrating the rich diversity within our nation. The individuals who took the pledge committed to upholding the democratic values and laws of Australia and I'm proud to welcome them as new citizens of our district.

Quarterly Strategic Workshop

In line with our commitment to transparency and forward-thinking, Council recently held the first of our quarterly strategic finance workshops. This session was focused on developing a three-year budget, which will provide greater clarity and foresight for our community on the plans and priorities beyond the typical 12-month cycle. As part of this process, we are also reviewing our Asset Management Plan and service standards to ensure responsible and sustainable management of our district's assets. This includes exploring innovation, digital options and partnerships to improve service delivery and find cost-effective solutions in the short, medium and long term.

Cape Jervis Progress Association – Visit to Kangaroo Island

The Cape Jervis Progress Association has been doing exceptional work on their Jetty Timbers Project with a fantastic presentation to elected members at our forum on the 1st of October. I was thrilled to join them for a visit to Kangaroo Island, where we met with the Penneshaw Progress Association and explored their Sculpture Trail for inspiration. It was an inspiring day of sharing ideas and learning from each other's experiences. I look forward to seeing some exciting projects come to life over the coming months.

Warm Regards,
Darryl Houston
Mayor

CEO'S CORNER

Recently, Council staff had the pleasure of working closely with the Cape Jervis Progress Association on their Cape Jervis Jetty Timber consultation process. This project has focused on clever re-use projects from the Cape Jervis Jetty which unfortunately, was removed last year to make way for enhancements to the SeaLink Terminal area. The dedication and professionalism displayed by this group are a testament to the incredible community spirit that thrives in our district. It's a reminder that behind many of the initiatives that make our area such a great place to live are hardworking, often unsung, individuals quietly contributing their time and energy.

This is also the time of year to bring these quiet achievers into the spotlight. Nominations for the 2024 Citizen of the Year Awards are currently open, offering an opportunity to recognise those who selflessly contribute to our community. Whether they are volunteers, advocates, or simply people who go the extra mile, we encourage you to celebrate their efforts. Nominations can be submitted at www.citizenoftheyear.com.au and will close on 15 November 2024.

The roles and responsibilities of our team at Council are wide and varied and in another recent example of adaptability and problem-solving, Council staff and volunteers stepped up to manage the Rapid Bay Camping Ground on short notice. This involved not only setting up a new booking platform but also ensuring smooth day-to-day operations ahead of the October Long Weekend, which helped to ensure a great outcome for that peak period. Our staff have shown a willingness and ability to embrace change and challenges, which is a credit to their resourcefulness and commitment. We're proud to share that the feedback from visitors has been overwhelmingly positive, highlighting the flexibility and problem-solving capabilities of our team.

Looking ahead, it's clear that our community thrives when Council and local groups work together. Whether through collaboration with groups like the Cape Jervis Progress Association or through the individual efforts recognised in the Citizen of the Year Awards, we are continually inspired by the passion and dedication that shapes our district.

Did you see The Amazing Race come to Normanville?!

You may have seen teams of young people running around Normanville in the recent school holidays - they were racing against the clock (and each other) in The Amazing Race Fleurieu Style event, which was hosted by the District Council of Yankalilla, supported by Bendigo Community Bank Fleurieu and facilitated by Beyond the Classroom, a company based locally at Willow Creek!

The idea to bring this exciting event to Normanville was youth-led coming from the Youth Advisory Council (YAC) participants and was made possible with a grant from the Bendigo Community Bank Fleurieu.

The Amazing Race experience challenged 18 young people who broke up into teams to solve puzzles and problems, search for and learn about local historical landmarks, and complete a range of games, challenges, and creative tasks.

The Race began at Bungala Park, where teams were formed and bonded with coloured bandannas, lots of laughs, games and challenges. Teams then headed off around the region to solve riddles, answer questions, and come up with creative solutions to a host of problems at various parks and other locations on the way to Normanville Beach. They then raced back to Bungala Park to finish ahead of the other teams!

Points were awarded along the way for accuracy, creativity, teamwork and speed. The winning team was announced with chocolates and cheers from all involved, with a difference of only 6 points between all three teams!

The winning team was not the speediest team but beat the others with their accuracy on the questions. An example of slow and steady may just win the race!

Everyone involved had a blast!

Acknowledging Councillor Glen Rowlands' Service to Yankalilla

The District Council of Yankalilla would like to thank Councillor Glen Rowlands for his dedicated service as a Light Ward Councillor, following his recent resignation.

Glen Rowlands was first elected to Council during the 2014 Supplementary Election and soon after was appointed as Mayor in November 2014. He served as Mayor for nearly seven years, stepping down in June 2021, but continued to represent the community as a Councillor.

Throughout his over ten years of service, Glen contributed significantly to various Council committees and was instrumental in many of the District Council of Yankalilla's key achievements. His passion and advocacy for the community have left a lasting impact.

Chief Executive Officer Nathan Cunningham expressed his gratitude, stating, "On behalf of the District Council of Yankalilla, I sincerely thank Cr Rowlands for his remarkable contribution and leadership. We wish him all the best in his future endeavours."

Citizen of the Year Nominations

Each year, South Australia celebrates the achievements and contributions of outstanding members of their communities through the Citizen of the Year Awards. These individuals offer remarkable service each day and so often this is invisible to us. They don't do it for the praise or for recognition – they do it simply because it makes a difference to the people of our state.

The Citizen of the Year Awards comprises of 4 major categories:

Citizen of the Year Award: The most outstanding Citizen for the local government authority.

Young Citizen of the Year Award: The most outstanding Young Citizen for the local government authority.

Community Event of the Year Award: A person or group who has staged the most outstanding community event.

Award for Active Citizenship: A person or group delivering outstanding work on an event or project for the community during the past calendar year.

The Citizen of the Year Awards rely on nominations from the public. If there is an unsung hero in our community who you would like to nominate, you can either drop into council to pick up a hard copy nomination form or nominate online through the Citizen of the Year website:

www.citizenoftheyear.com.au

Light Ward Supplementary Election Result

Congratulations to Shane Grocke, who has been declared by the Electoral Commission of South Australia (ECSA) as the newly elected Councillor for the Light Ward, District Council of Yankalilla.

Shane was elected to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Glen Rowlands, and we are thrilled to welcome him to the Council.

You can find the full election results on the ECSA website: <https://ecsa.sa.gov.au/?view=article&id=972>

Shane absolutely loves everything about our region! From our lush farming lands to our stunning beaches, and most importantly, our passionate and vibrant people. He is really looking forward to having many engaging conversations and representing our wonderful community.

A Swearing-in Ceremony will be held at the Chambers on Tuesday, 5 November 2024, prior to the November Elected Member Information and Briefing Session.

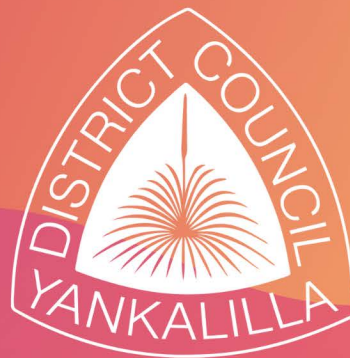

Once again, congratulations, Shane, and welcome to the District Council of Yankalilla!

Success on our beaches!

Over the last Hooded Plover breeding season, we fledged five chicks on our local beaches, three at Shelley Beach and two on North Carrickalinga Beach with the help of our dedicated Hooded Plover monitors. This was the best season since 2016!

The Hooded Plover, or hoodie as it is affectionately known, lives its entire life on the beach, where it breeds between August and March by laying eggs on the sand just above the high tide mark. The number of hoodies has been declining across southern Australia as they have one of the lowest breeding success rates in the world. It is very hard for this species to find a spot on the beach that is not disturbed by visitors, vehicles or dogs. Every time they are disturbed and leave their nests, the eggs and chicks are vulnerable to predators and extreme temperatures.

With less than 70 Hooded Plovers nesting on our local beaches in the whole Fleurieu and Adelaide metro region, they are very vulnerable not only to natural threats, such as storm surges, high tides and native predators but also to introduced pests, such as foxes.

How can you help?

- Learn to identify Hoodies and please keep your distance from fenced nests.
- If you walk your dog along the beach, please keep them on a leash near a fenced nest or chicks and walk at the water's edge.
- If you ride your horse on the beach, please ride close to the water's edge.
- If you drive on the beach, please try and keep as close to the water's edge as possible.
- Become a Hooded Plover monitor

The 2024/2025 season started well, with several nests already fenced to help protect the birds and we are hoping for another successful season. If you would like to be a Hooded Plover monitor, which involves walking on your local beach when it suits you, please contact Wendy White on 0413 918 085.

This program is run by BirdLife Australia and proudly supported by Green Adelaide, Hills & Fleurieu Landscape Board, National Parks and Wildlife SA and the Coastal Councils of the Adelaide and Fleurieu Coastline.

Food Safety

With the Environmental Health Officer

Work and school lunch safety

Packing a lunch for yourself or your child is a healthy and cost-effective option. However, food poisoning bacteria can grow quickly, especially in warmer weather and in more nutritious foods such as salad and cold meat we pack for lunch these days.

Choose

- Choose low-risk foods such as hard cheeses, freshly cooked meats and poultry, fresh, well-washed fruits and vegetables, canned tuna or salmon, shelf-stable snacks and sandwich spreads.
- When buying lunchboxes, choose ones that are easy to clean and dry. Insulated lunchboxes are a great idea, but not if they are difficult to keep clean.

Clean

- When preparing food, always practice scrupulous handwashing.
- Lunchboxes and reusable drink bottles must be thoroughly washed and dried daily. If they are cracked, split, or crazed, replace them, as bugs love hidey holes.
- Ensure cutting boards, benches and utensils are clean and dry.
- Wash all fruits and vegetables thoroughly.
- With a staff kitchen, set up a roster to ensure bench tops are clean and dishcloths, sponges, brushes and tea towels are clean and replaced regularly. Wash dirty dishes in hot soapy water or put in the dishwasher.

Cook

- Make sure lunch foods are cooked properly in the first place.
- When reheating, ensure they are steaming hot all the way through – stir or turn food as appropriate.

Chill

- Lunches can safely be prepared a little ahead of time, provided they are kept in the fridge or frozen.
- When leaving home, pack a frozen juice box, water bottle or commercial ice pack with the lunch. Place perishable foods such as cheeses and sandwiches between the frozen items.
- Lunchboxes kept inside the school bag will keep cooler longer, especially if the bag is away from heat sources such as direct sunlight.
- Divide cooked leftovers into small lunch-sized portions so they refrigerate or freeze quickly.
- Put food in the fridge as soon
- As you get to work. If you are working on construction sites, outdoors, or in other environments with limited access to refrigerators, pack food in insulated containers with frozen drinks or freezer bricks and store them in a cool place between meal breaks.
- Staff fridges should be uncrowded and running at or below 5°C. Provide labels and a pen so people can label and date any food in the fridge.

Separate

- Make sure lunchbox foods have been well separated from other foods in the refrigerator, particularly meats, chicken and fish, the juices of which will contaminate foods that won't be cooked before adding to the lunchbox, such as fruits.

General advice

- If in doubt, throw it out!
- Warn children against sharing drink bottles. Sharing lunches is also not a good idea as it is difficult to know what allergies other children may have, or whether the foods have been prepared using the basic food safety tips.
- If you or your child has food poisoning, don't go to work or school and avoid handling food for others for 48 hours after symptoms such as vomiting and diarrhoea stop. If food poisoning symptoms persist, visit a doctor.

Greater Adelaide Regional Plan

The State Planning Commission has released the Greater Adelaide Regional Plan and wants to hear from the community, councils and industry on how they sustainably prepare for future growth.

The Plan set outs a long-term vision for Greater Adelaide, detailing where people will live and work, how they will move around and where they will access services. It provides data and recommendations for managing growth and adapting to changes in our community and urban environment.

Additionally, the Plan focuses on the maintenance of green spaces and tree canopies, modernising essential services and infrastructure, recognising neighbourhood character and prioritising environmental sustainability.

Rabbit Control Efforts in the Adelaide Hills and Fleurieu Peninsula

Landscapes Hills and Fleurieu is actively tackling the growing feral rabbit problem in the Adelaide Hills and Fleurieu Peninsula through a range of strategies. One key initiative is facilitating the purchase of ground baits, available at distribution days held in summer and autumn.

Feral rabbits are a serious threat to biodiversity, agriculture, and the overall health of the landscape. They overgraze pastures and crops, cause soil erosion, hinder the regeneration of native vegetation, and disrupt vulnerable ecosystems. To address this, management days are conducted following best practice guidelines, providing an effective control program for landholders. An integrated approach is essential for achieving the best results.

This November and December, Landscapes Hills and Fleurieu is hosting Rabbit Management Information Sessions across the region to help landholders optimise their rabbit control efforts. To attend, please register via their website: www.landscapes.sa.gov.au

Additionally, Animal Control Technologies Australia (ACTA) is offering a webinar on rabbit control. This session will provide expert knowledge and practical advice on managing rabbit populations, safe baiting practices, and minimising impacts on non-target species.
