Deep Creek's Remarkable Recovery: Nature's Regeneration on Display

Just three months after the February bushfires, Deep Creek National Park is offering visitors a rare and inspiring opportunity to witness nature's resilience firsthand.

Across the park, the signs of regeneration are everywhere. Fresh green shoots are emerging from the blackened earth, native fungi are appearing on the forest floor, and iconic Xanthorrhoea (grass trees) are already sending up new flower spikes. Fire-affected trees are showing growth, a powerful reminder of the Australian bush's extraordinary ability to recover and renew.

As wildlife begins to return and the landscape transforms week by week, there has never been a more remarkable time to visit and experience this once-in-a-lifetime regeneration journey.

With most of the park now reopened, visitors are encouraged to check current closures and alerts via www.parks.sa.gov.au or stop by the Fleurieu Coast Visitor Centre for local information.

Deep Creek is healing and it's a beautiful sight to behold.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

One of the highlights of the month was officially opening the 2026 Heritage Fleurieu Coast Festival at the Second Valley Memorial Hall. Since its beginnings in 2018, the festival has grown into a wonderful month-long celebration of our district's history, culture and community spirit, and it is now firmly established as part of South Australia's History Festival.

This year's program features around 40 events across the district, showcasing everything from First Nations culture and natural landscapes to local stories, traditions and built heritage. It was especially pleasing to see the launch of Old Second Valley and Wirrina by Jane Olsson, continuing the important work of documenting and preserving our local history. The success of the festival is a testament to the dedication of our volunteers, historians and community organisations who work so hard to bring these stories to life.

There was also encouraging news from the recent Federal Budget, with several funding programs important to local government confirmed or extended. This included long-term supplementary road funding for South Australia, continued support through Financial Assistance Grants, investment in local infrastructure and ongoing funding opportunities through the Active Transport Fund and drought resilience initiatives.

While many of these funding programs operate behind the scenes, they play an important role in helping councils maintain roads, improve community infrastructure, support regional resilience and plan for the future. Council will continue advocating strongly to ensure our district receives its fair share of investment to support the needs of our growing community.

Warm Regards,

Darryl Houston
Mayor

CEO'S CORNER

Earlier this month, our Council joined the statewide Going Missing campaign led by the Local Government Association of South Australia, which highlights the importance of protecting the iconic jetties across the State. The campaign draws attention to the growing financial pressures councils face in maintaining ageing jetty infrastructure and advocates for a more sustainable funding partnership with the State Government.

Council is responsible for two much-loved local assets, Normanville Jetty and Second Valley Jetty and these are central to our coastal lifestyle and visitor economy. They are places where people gather to meet, fish, walk, reflect and enjoy our coastline and they hold deep social and cultural value for both residents and visitors. I encourage community members to learn more about the campaign and add their support by signing the pledge at www.lga.sa.gov.au/jetties.

I would also like to take this opportunity to provide a reminder about the upcoming 2026 Local Government Elections.

If you are on the State (House of Assembly) Electoral Roll, you will automatically receive a voting pack between 15 October and 21 October 2026. You may also be eligible to vote if you own a rateable property in the area (including non-resident owners) or if you represent a body corporate (such as a business or organisation) or a group. However, if you are not enrolled on the State Electoral Roll for an address within the District Council of Yankalilla area, you will need to apply for inclusion on Council's Supplementary Voters Roll and this must occur by 5 pm on Friday 31 July 2026.

Earlier this month, Council wrote to individuals who were previously listed on the supplementary roll, advising them that re-enrolment is required following the statutory roll purge which occurred on 1 January 2026. If this applies to you, please ensure your enrolment is renewed before the close of roll.

Participating in local elections is one of the most direct ways to have a say in the future direction of our community. Further information, including eligibility details and enrolment forms, is available at www.yankalilla.sa.gov.au/council-elections.

Gazania Plant Swap Success

The recent Gazania Free Garden Plant Swap at the Fleurieu Coast Community Nursery saw local residents roll up their sleeves to help protect the South Coast's natural environment.

More than 50 households across the region removed gazanias from their gardens and exchanged photographs of the removed weeds for free local native plants. Across the two events, more than 500 native plants grown by volunteers at the Fleurieu Coast Community Nursery were given away.

The initiative encouraged residents to replace gazanias, a declared coastal weed, with waterwise native species that provide important habitat and food sources for local wildlife.

Removed Gazanias

The event also delivered an unexpected bonus for the Fleurieu Coast Community Nursery, with eight new volunteers joining the nursery team following the Monday swap event.

The Gazania Free Garden Plant Swap was delivered in partnership with the District Council of Yankalilla, Alexandrina Council, City of Victor Harbor, Landscapes Hills and Fleurieu, Green Adelaide and the Fleurieu Coast Community Nursery.

Thank you to everyone who participated and helped make the event such a success.

DEPOT NEWS

New guard rails have recently been installed on Stone Road at the river crossing south of Taverner Road to improve safety for motorists, pedestrians and cyclists travelling through the area.

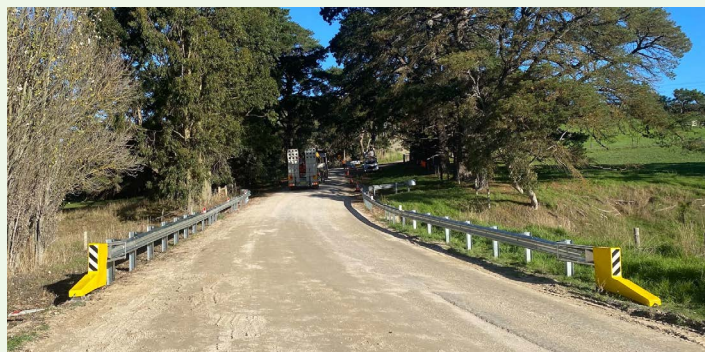

Before

The new extended guard rails feature reflectors and high-visibility end terminals, improving visibility at night and providing better protection along the roadside.

The previous guard rails offered limited protection due to damage, their low positioning at road level and their short length, which did not extend beyond the bridge area.

The upgraded installation now provides improved coverage to help reduce the risk of vehicles, pedestrians or cyclists leaving the roadway near the river crossing, delivering a safer and more visible barrier for the community and visitors travelling along Stone Road.

After

Food Safety

With the Environmental Health Officer

Environmental Awareness and Food Safety

We are all becoming more environmentally aware but sometimes messages on energy and water saving contradict good food safety advice.

Remember that being ill is a drain on the economy and not something we would wish on our family and friends.

Some types of food poisoning can have severe or even chronic consequences.

Water

Saving water is important but so is washing your hands properly.

Washing fruit and vegetables under running water removes loose soil and helps to remove many bacteria and viruses.

If you wash fruit and vegetables that are not going to be cooked in a bowl to save water, this can create a microbiological soup that may re-contaminate the food or your hands, depending on the types and amounts washed.

Alternatively, you can catch running water used for washing in a bowl or bucket and then use it on the garden, where it will not come into contact with other ready-to-eat fruits, vegetables and herbs.

Read labels of pre-cut or peeled fruits and vegetables. If they have already been washed before packaging and they are within their use by or best before date, then washing again is not necessary.

Energy

Don't be tempted to save electricity by setting your fridge to a warmer temperature. It must run at 5°C or below to make sure bacteria don't grow.

Gardening

It is great to grow your own food, as it tastes good, is fresh and helps our children understand where food comes from.

You can still get food poisoning or contamination from your own produce but this can be avoided with a bit of careful planning.

Remember not to put 'grey' water from the house, such as washing machine water, onto fruit, vegetables or herbs growing in the garden. Don't store grey water, as microbes will grow in it. Also, avoid using water from the washing up or dishwasher, as it contains too much fat and other solids that can be harmful to plant growth.

Don't locate your garden near any rubbish piles or bins that may contain chemicals that could leak into the garden or attract vermin.

Carefully choose the garden site for hazards, for example, if you have an older building, avoid using soil that could have been contaminated by scrapings of lead paint many years ago.

Make sure any compost you buy is treated and if you make it yourself, ensure it is well composted. This not only kills any weed seeds but also helps kill food poisoning bacteria. Prevent easy access by vermin and pests, such as mice and rats, which can spread diseases.

Never use any type of manure on food plants that hasn't been thoroughly composted, as it will be contaminated with bacteria, some of which can make you sick.

Take precautions to protect your vegetable garden from the entry of domestic and wild pests. Watch for evidence of invasions and discard damaged crops.

Minimise the use of garden chemicals and make sure you stick to the instructions for use. Use exactly the amount recommended on the label and avoid spraying other areas of the garden in windy conditions, as the spray may drift onto fruit and vegetables. Some chemicals will have withholding periods before you harvest any fruit or vegetables that have been sprayed, so that there are no residues in the food when consumed.

AusAlert: New National Emergency Warning System

AusAlert is Australia's new national emergency warning system, designed to send urgent alerts directly to mobile devices in specific areas using advanced cell-broadcast technology. This internationally proven approach is already used in more than 30 countries and allows authorities to deliver faster, more targeted warnings during emergencies.

How it works:

AusAlert messages provide clear, essential information, including:

- The type of emergency
- Its location and severity
- What actions to take
- Who issued the alert
- Where to find more information

The system may be used in a wide range of situations such as natural disasters (bushfires, floods, cyclones), public safety threats, biosecurity incidents, and health emergencies.

Key benefits:

AusAlert is designed to improve on existing SMS-based systems by being:

- Targeted: Alerts are sent only to people in affected areas (even as precise as a single building)
- Fast: Messages reach all devices in the area almost instantly
- Reliable: Works even when mobile networks are congested and without a SIM card
- Secure and private: No phone numbers or personal data are collected
- Attention-grabbing: Critical alerts override silent settings with a loud sound and vibration

Rollout and testing:

AusAlert is currently being developed, with operations expected to begin from October 2026.

To ensure the system works effectively, community testing is underway, including a national test on 27 July 2026, when all compatible devices across Australia will receive a test alert. This testing phase is critical to confirm system performance before it is used in real emergencies.

You can find out more about the National test at www.ausalert.gov.au/alerts-explained/national-test

Fleurieu Regional Waste Authority

1. Change to bin calendar distribution

Are you looking for your bin collection calendar?

The Fleurieu Regional Waste Authority (FRWA) continually strive to utilise modern approaches to meet the varied expectations of our customers, while focusing on reducing environmental impact and cost-saving for Council. During 2026, FRWA will modernise its calendar distribution processes to focus on digital circulation and cease the blanket distribution of printed calendars. The change was rolled out successfully to FRWA's other 3 Councils last year, with the District Council of Yankalilla transitioning this financial year.

FRWA suggests downloading an app for weekly bin reminders or saving a PDF or screenshot of the collection calendar. Residents can also collect a printed calendar from the District Council of Yankalilla office or the FRWA Yankalilla Waste and Recycling Depot.

Calendar options:

1. Get bin reminder notifications by downloading the My Local Services App

Download the free My Local Services App for bin collection days and weekly reminders of which bin to put out. It's available in the Apple App Store and Google Play.

2. Check when your next collection is and download a council-wide or an address-specific calendar

Visit frwa.com.au/collection-calendar-downloads

- a) Click on your council logo to download a council-wide calendar, or
- b) Type your street address in the search bar to download your address-specific day calendar.

3. Collect a printed calendar

Printed A5 Council-wide calendars are available from the District Council of Yankalilla Customer Service counter and the FRWA Yankalilla Waste and Recycling Depot.

4. Request a mailed calendar

Fill out the form at the end of frwa.com.au/collection-calendar-downloads to request a printed Council-wide A5 calendar to be mailed to you. Delivery may take 10 business days, depending on Australia Post.

If you would prefer one of our larger, day-specific, A4 calendars, please call the FRWA customer service team on 8555 2467 (Mon – Fri 8.30 am to 4.00 pm) and ask for a day-specific calendar.

FRWA thanks residents for their support as our region moves to a more sustainable process.

2. Change to Wattle Flat area bin collection day

Wattle Flat area – change of bin collection day from 1st of July 2026
The kerbside waste collection for 70 properties in the District Council of Yankalilla will change from Fridays to Thursdays for 2026-2027.

To better serve the region, the Wattle Flat area bin collection day will change from Fridays to Thursdays for the 2026-2027 financial year. The change is designed to even out workload demands between Thursday and Friday, reducing late-afternoon collections or delaying them to Saturday.

The day change applies to kerbside properties and bin bank collections in the area. A map of the included properties is available at frwa.com.au/dcy-wattle-flat-area-collection-day-change/

Key Dates:

1. Friday 26 June 2026 – last Friday bin collection day (blue/red landfill bin week)
2. Thursday 2 July 2026 – first Thursday collection day (yellow recycling bin week) – put bin out Wednesday night
3. Thursdays onwards – both landfill week and recycling week will be Thursday collections.

FRWA asks Wattle Flat residents to place their bin out on Wednesday night, ready for their first Thursday collection on 2 July 2026.

For more information, visit www.frwa.com.au or call 8555 2467 (Monday to Friday, 8.30 am to 4.00 pm).

3. Expiry of yellow EC and additional bin stickers

Time to renew Exceptional Circumstances (EC) and paid additional bin stickers

All current yellow 2025-2026 stickers for exceptional circumstances (EC) and paid additional bins expire on 1 July 2026. Renewals are now open and should be completed by 15 June to allow for postage time. EC and additional bins must display a current sticker for collection. To help your driver easily see your new sticker, FRWA requests that all old/expired stickers be removed.

To ensure the continued collection of these extra bins into the next financial year:

- EC bins: renew directly with Council by completing the EC renewal form linked from www.yankalilla.sa.gov.au/services/waste-and-recycling/Household-Waste-Collection. Contact Council on 08558 0200 or email Council@yankalilla.sa.gov.au for assistance.
- Paid additional bin services: purchase 2026-2027 services at frwa.com.au/kerbsidecollections/additional-bin-services/
